4. Energy Saving Reward Calculation Method

200 Domeo Points will be rewarded for each unit of electricity saved (1 kWh); extra 100 Domeo Points will be given to each 1kWh saved for customers with designated smart gadget, within specified hours on the Event day.

4.1. Calculation for Energy Saving Reward

- a. Electricity saved (kWh) = Baseline energy usage* – energy usage of specified hours on the Event Day
- b. Energy Saving Reward = Electricity saved (each 1 kWh) x 200 Eco Domeo Points, customers entering smart product trial can earn extra 100 Domeo Points for each unit of electricity saved.
- c. *Baseline usage is calculated based on your energy use 10 working days[^] before the SSR event day, we will identify 3 days with the highest energy use to calculate an average and set your baseline usage. Depending on the SSR event period (e.g. 6pm to 10pm), we will make reference your energy use during the same period.
- d. [^]The 10 working days cover Mondays to Saturdays, except public holidays and past event days.
- e. The final saving value calculation of each unit of electricity saved will be round up to an integer. For example, 2.3 kWh will be rounded up to 3 kWh. Since each unit of electricity saving will earn 200 Domeo Points = 3 kWh x 200 Domeo Points, participant will earn 600 Domeo Points as Energy Saving Reward.
- f. Energy Saving Reward will be calculated on event basis. For example, you saved 2kWh electricity each in two events, then you can earn 800 Eco Domeo Points (2 x 2kWh x 200 Domeo Points).

- 4.2. Energy Saving Reward shall be determined based on the actual consumption. However, in case of any data interruption, transmission blackout, delayed transmission due to Internet, computer or communication system failure or whatever circumstances causing data collection failure for energy saving or above rewards calculation, Energy Saving Reward will be subjected to an estimated consumption based upon the average energy saving of the past events, and there will not be any adjustments made afterwards.

- 4.3. In case of long overdue payment of your accounts, or disconnection or repair or malfunction of smart meter of the registered address on the Event day due to whatever reasons, CLP has its sole discretion to cancel all related entitlements without compensation.
- 4.4. CLP reserve the right to alter, change energy saving calculation method and rewards at any time without prior notice.
